

POPARD

Helping Schools Help Students

www.popard.ca

Introduction to Autism Spectrum Disorders: Practical Applications

a POPARD course hosted by

course description:

The Introduction to Autism Spectrum Disorders course is offered to teachers, paraprofessionals, and other educational staff. This 30-hour course reflects current research and evidence-based practice in teaching students with ASD.

Research-based methods of effective adult instruction are now used in this course. These include practical hands-on activities, demonstration, coaching and application exercises as well as a variety of ways of evaluating participant learning.

location:

date & time:

registration/ information: