

Building Strong Readers: Early Literacy Screening, Data, and Instruction

Presenter: David Fainstein

3:30pm - 4:30pm (PST)

Online on Zoom

Free entry

REGISTER NOW!

Wednesday, April 9, 2025

Early Literacy Screening: Building a Foundation for Every Reader

We cover a foundational understanding of early literacy screening and its vital role in classrooms. We will explore what early literacy screening is, clarifying common misconceptions and emphasizing its purpose as a proactive measure to support all learners.

Wednesday, April 16, 2025

Understanding Early Literacy Screening Data: Making Sense of the Results

We focus on making sense of the information gathered from early literacy screeners. Building on the foundational understanding of what screening is, this session will guide participants through the process of interpreting screening data. We will explore common scoring methods, understand what different scores indicate about student skills, and learn how to organize and analyze data at both the individual and classroom levels.

Wednesday, April 23, 2025

Using Early Literacy Screeners to Target Instruction: Connecting Data to Action

We get to the practical application of early literacy screeners to inform and target instruction. We will explore how to administer screeners effectively, interpret the resulting data, and, most importantly, translate that data into actionable instructional strategies.

